

2014 DOCTALKS SYMPOSIUM PROGRAM & SCHEDULE

SYMPOSIUM OBJECTIVES

The DOCTalks Symposium seeks to foster a creative and knowledge based economy in Atlantic Canada, through collaborative partnerships and networks that create, fund, mobilize and distribute “socially relevant” ideas, content and programming, such as:

- 1) Publishing books, e-books, and articles for academic publications and commercial media aimed at national and international readership (journals, presses, newspapers, magazines, blogs)
- 2) Producing broadcast programming and online content for national and international audiences (documentary films & series, animation, games, apps, interactive websites)
- 3) Creating educational content to be used for community outreach purposes by government agencies and not-for-profit organizations (courses, workshops, videos)
